United States Attorney Joe W. Stecher, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Omaha Police Department announce the following information for the attention of the media:

Event Triggering this Release: On December 16, 2008, a superseding indictment was unsealed charging Devin Enriques, age 23 of Omaha, and Marquita Jensen, also age 23 and of Omaha, with conspiracy to commit bank robbery, bank robbery and use of a weapon in the commission of a crime of violence. The indictment alleges that Jensen was employed as a teller at TierOne bank in Omaha and that she was involved in a romantic relationship with Enriques. It is further alleged she conspired with Devin Enriques to rob bank branches where she was employed. Specifically, the indictment alleges Enriques, and others both known and unknown to the Grand Jury, actually robbed a TierOne branch located at 8820 Arbor Street at gunpoint on September 4, 2008, and planned to rob a branch located at 9775 Q Street on October 6, 2008. According to the indictment Jensen provided information regarding the security features present at the Q Street branch to Enriques. It also alleges the robbery of the Q Street branch did not take place because Jensen sent a text message to Enriques alerting him to the presence of the police at the bank.

Enriques was previously arrested and charged with the robbery of the Arbor Street branch. He was further charged with the use of a weapon in the commission of a crime of violence. He is in federal custody and awaiting trial. Marquita Jensen was arrested on Tuesday, December 16, 2008. She will appear in United States District Court to answer to the charges later this week. Investigation into the identity of the others who allegedly assisted Enriques and Jensen in the robbery of the Arbor Street branch is ongoing.
